

M&A Associate

Position available

Clearwater International is a leading global corporate finance house with 17 offices around the world. We are currently expanding rapidly and are therefore looking for new talent. The people at Clearwater share a passion to win and recognise the importance of integrity and a strong will, as foundations for success.

Our unique skillset provides our clients with unparalleled advice. We are currently looking to add a M&A Associate to the team for the Netherlands office.

You have three to five years of relevant experience in M&A or adjacent industries, such as transaction services. You can independently work on client deliverables and are comfortable interacting with clients and external advisers.

At Clearwater, you will be working with live buy and sell mandates from day one, interacting with business owners, senior executives at large investment firms, listed companies, and private equity companies on a regular basis. Clearwater recognise and value work-life balance and flexibility is a must. We think that management of your own time is an important motivator and a key to success both at work and in life.

What do we look for?

- Top performers – we believe that success in other areas of life such as sports, music or entrepreneurship can be translated to success in M&A
- Academic excellence – a strong academic record within finance and/or accounting
- Strong team spirit and great interpersonal skills – you will quickly be granted leadership opportunities and as such a track record of leadership capabilities is key
- Exceptional analytic skills – as we help our clients with some of their most critical strategic challenges, our employees need exceptional analytic skills
