

CLEARWATER INTERNATIONAL

Full-time positions available

Clearwater International Sweden is set to open a new office in Gothenburg, and we are therefore looking for talents to join our new team. At Clearwater, we share a passion to win and recognise the importance of integrity and a strong will as foundations for success. Our unique skillset ensures our clients receive unparalleled advice.

Your primary tasks and responsibilities will depend on qualifications and previous working experience. You will be part of a dedicated team that provides exceptional opportunities for career advancement.

At Clearwater, you will be working with live buy- and sell-side mandates from day one and interact with business owners, senior executives from prominent investment firms, listed companies, and private equity entities on a regular basis. Clearwater recognises and value work-life balance and flexibility is a must. We believe that management of your own time is an important motivator and a key to success both professionally and personally.

Who do we look for?

- Top performers – we believe that success in other areas of life such as sports, music or entrepreneurship can be translated to success in M&A
- Academic excellence – a strong academic record within business, finance and/or industrial engineering and management
- Strong team spirit and great interpersonal skills – at Clearwater International Sweden, you will quickly be granted leadership opportunities, and as such, a track record of leadership capabilities is key
- Exceptional analytical skills – as we assist our clients with some of their most critical strategic challenges, our employees need exceptional analytical skills
- A pleasant colleague, committed and spreading a positive mood!
